

Texas Employers Should Revisit Workplace Policies in Light of New Employment Laws, Houston Attorney Says

Publication

8.29.19

Texas legislators passed a host of new and expanded employment laws during the 2019 legislative session. Writing for Law360, Houston attorney Felix Digilov explains how these new laws will affect employers and provides direction on how they may want to reshape their workplace policies and bring their companies into compliance.

To read the article, visit Law360 (subscription required).

Related Offices

Dallas

Houston