Introducing the Fisher Phillips MSHA Inspection Tracker

In this episode, Chris and Arthur discuss Fisher Phillips' brand new MSHA inspection tracker. Chock full of data, this new tool will provide operators a glimpse of recent MSHA activity. Chris and Arthur discuss the different types of data the tracker includes and how operators may be able to spot compliance and enforcement trends from the information provided. They also discuss how they hope to use the data to provide compliance strategies based on what the trends are showing.
