

Memphis Lawyer Discusses How Labor Law Developments Have Taken an Employer-Friendly Turn

Publication

1.13.20

In an article for the Memphis Business Journal, Greg Grisham discusses how the NLRB has shifted gears and taken a more employer-friendly approach, and he provides examples of other recent developments that are also “good news” for employers. The examples he provides are employer-friendly as they continue “...the trend of restoring balance between employers and employees and overturn decisions/overhaul a rule that greatly benefited unions to the detriment of employers.”

To read the article, visit the Memphis Business Journal (subscription required).

Related People

Greg Grisham

Partner

901.333.2076

Email

Related Offices

Memphis