

What Employers Need to Know About Predictive Scheduling

Publication

3.05.20

Predictive scheduling is a trend that is picking up steam around the country, but the laws vary greatly based on locality. In an article for Staffing Stream, partner Ed Harold examines the predictive scheduling laws in various cities around the country while providing employers with some helpful guidance on what they can do to ensure compliance.

To read the article, visit Staffing Stream.

Related People

Edward F. Harold
Regional Managing Partner
504.592.3801
Email

Related Offices

New Orleans