

Employment Immigration Enforcement: What Construction Executives Need to Be Aware of Both During and After the Pandemic

Publication

4.29.20

In an article published by Construction Executive, partner David Jones provides insights for executives on what they should know about various forms of employment immigration enforcement both during and after the COVID-19 pandemic. In his article, David explains the rights and obligations of construction executives when ICE shows up on the worksite. He also describes the changes to Form I-9 reviews and lays out what employers should be aware of in terms of significant changes to the H-1B Visa system.

To read the article, visit Construction Executive.

Related People

David S. Jones
Regional Managing Partner
901.526.0431
Email

Service Focus

Immigration

Related Offices

related Offices

Memphis