

Employment Issues Facing Hotels as They Reopen

Publication

5.12.20

In her article for California Lodging News, Miranda Watkins explores the brand-new set of labor and employment challenges for hotels looking to resume operations. In the article, she outlines the steps employers should keep in mind for hiring and recalling workers, implementing workplace safety guidelines and complying with FFCRA, EPSL and EFMLA. Hotel operators should also consider post-pandemic reviews of employee handbooks, travel policies and training on newly implemented workplace policies.

To read the full article, visit California Lodging News.

Industry Focus

Hospitality