

Fisher Phillips Welcomes Joshua Klein to the Irvine Office

News
2.06.23

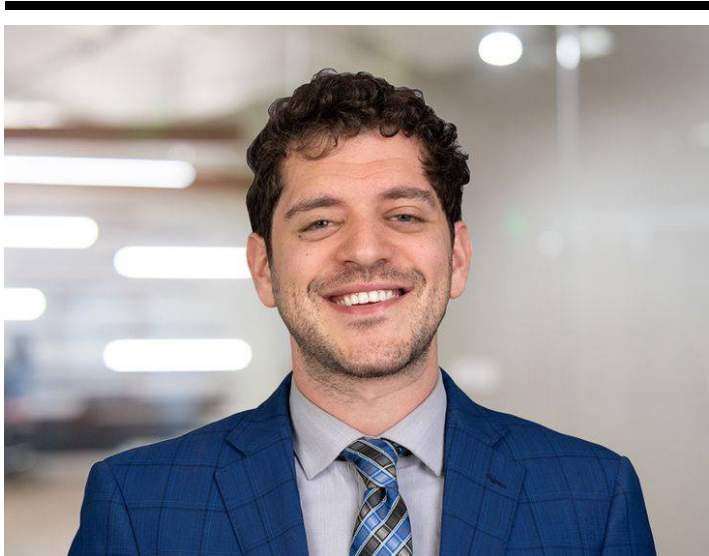

Fisher Phillips, one of the country's preeminent labor and employment law firms representing employers, is pleased to announce that Joshua Klein has joined the firm as an associate in the Irvine office.

Before joining Fisher Phillips, Joshua practiced as an associate attorney in a regional law firm's labor and employment group, where he provided counsel for plaintiffs and defendants in civil litigation and arbitration involving employment, wage and hour, construction, personal injury, and defamation. Before that, he spent several years as an associate attorney at an employment litigation firm in Los Angeles County, California, where he focused primarily on representing employees in a variety of labor and employment disputes. At Fisher Phillips, he will continue litigating and defending employers in California state and federal courts.

Joshua earned his J.D. from The George Washington University Law School, where he served as a board member of the Alternative Dispute Resolution Board and an associate for the George Washington Journal of Energy and Environmental Law. He received his B.S. in Cognitive Science with a Specialization in Human Computer Interaction from The University of California, San Diego.
