Andreas Mosby, an attorney in Fisher Phillips' Columbia office, has been selected as a 2023 fellow for the National Employment Law Council (NELC) Academy. This is the second consecutive year that he has been selected for participation in the prestigious program.

The NELC Academy provides advanced skills training and mentoring for minority employment defense lawyers with less than four years of experience practicing management-side labor and employment law. Its purpose is to provide advanced skills training, expose participants to the NELC's national network of experienced minority labor and employment attorneys, encourage mentoring relationships, promote the NELC to attorneys who will soon be eligible for membership, and to create a pipeline for future NELC leaders.

Andreas will participate in a number of virtual and in-person programs that will provide legal skills training and mentoring to help fellows gain a competitive edge in their legal practice and business development skills.
