Event

3.01.23

12:00 PM — 1:00 PM PDT

The employment and job applicant exemption to the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”) – the first-in-the-nation comprehensive data privacy law – has ended and amendments creating additional consumer rights (including for employees) have gone into effect on January 1, 2023.

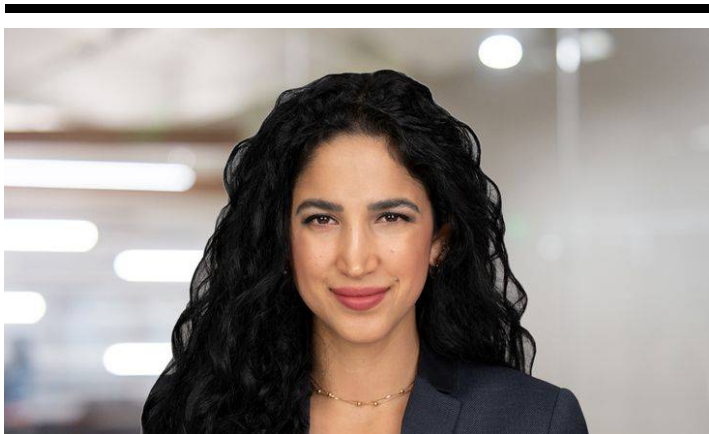

Join Consumer Privacy Team attorneys Leora Ghadoushi and Darcey Groden, CIPP/US, for this one-hour informative webinar where they will offer practical guidance on steps your business should take toward compliance. This webinar will answer your foundational questions about the law, what updates businesses need to make to be compliant with the most recent changes, and explore compliance strategies for moving forward.

The firm will submit this program for HRCI and SHRM credit.
