Fisher Phillips, one of the country's preeminent labor and employment law firms representing employers, is pleased to announce that Adam Sloustcher, partner in Fisher Phillips' San Diego office, was recognized among the San Diego Business Journal's 2023 Asian Pacific Islander Leaders of Influence. The honorees included in the 2023 edition are recognized for their unwavering contributions to the local business and legal communities, their service as trusted advisors to clients, and their commitment to maintaining the highest professional and ethical standards.

Adam is profiled for his leadership prowess as a co-chair of the firm's sports industry team, dedicated to advising athletic organizations on compliance with laws that impact their workplace. He is also a go-to source for employers looking for guidance on managing workplace controversies, as well as defending them before governmental, regulatory, and administrative agencies and, when necessary, in litigation. His devotion to his clients is well recognized, as he has been named a San Diego Super Lawyers Rising Star for the last three years for his work in labor and employment law.
