

San Francisco Partner Provides Six Steps for Employers Facing Reduction-in-Force

Publication

5.03.23

In a bylined article published in Lever News, Nathan Low discusses six steps employers can follow when facing the tough decisions tied to any impending reduction-in-force. “In the employment law context, it is important to go through the arduous decision-making process to better situate the company to defend against the fallout of potential legal claims. Ultimately, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.”

To read the article visit Lever News.

Related People

Nathan K. Low

Partner

415.490.9024

Email

Service Focus

Reductions in Force (RIFs)

Related Offices

San Francisco

