RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS AND TRADE SECRETS IN THE POST-PANDEMIC WORLD

Event

Thursday, September 21, 2023 and Tuesday, September 26, 2023
12:00 – 2:00 p.m. EDT both days

Space for this program is limited and reserved for clients and prospective clients of Fisher Phillips. By registering, you will be signed up for both sessions and will receive an email confirmation upon review of registration details.

Join Fisher Phillips for our 3rd annual two-part webinar program focused on employee mobility and its interplay with restrictive covenants and the protection of trade secrets.

The relentless evolution of technology, including game-changers like generative AI, and a nationally fractured approach to legislating and regulating the use of restrictive covenants, present obstacles to employers that must manage sensitive information while executing complex staffing strategies. As the economy lurches closer to the full adoption of a post-pandemic “business as usual,” employers need to take stock of all that has changed, and all that remains the same, if they are to successfully protect their most vital interests.

- The three major points to consider when determining whether to pursue litigation over trade secrets and/or non-compete issues.

Day 2 topics include:

- Restrictive covenants in the context of M&A activity, including uses to consider during due diligence, drafting processes as part of the buy-side deal team and how the structure of a deal may impact assignment and drafting options.
- The latest legal and regulatory developments concerning restrictive covenants, at the federal and state levels, with emphasis on the FTC's proposed ban on non-competes and how recent action by the NLRB stands to impact employers' approach to protecting trade secrets.
