Overview

Kile Marks counsels clients on data privacy and cybersecurity law and regulations, such as the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA), General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), Computer Fraud and Abuse Act (CFAA). He is an active member of the firm's Privacy and Cyber practice group and Consumer Privacy Team and advises on and helps manage effective responses to real-time data breaches and drafts and implements comprehensive policy suites for clients ranging from international corporations to small clients.

Marks is a Fellow of Information Privacy (FIP), a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US), a Certified Information Privacy Manager (CIPM), a Certified Information Privacy Technologist (CIPT), and a member of the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP).

He has published numerous articles, blogs, and podcasts on cybersecurity rules, information governance, artificial intelligence, the Internet of Things (IoT), attorney general policies, and data breaches.

Prior to joining Fisher Phillips, Marks served as an associate for a global law firm where he focused on data privacy, cybersecurity and information governance matters in Los Angeles, California. His experience also includes time in the consulting industry, in the non-profit sector, with the United States Senate, with the United States Attorney’s Office for the District of Columbia and with the United States Air Force as a Cryptologic Language Analyst.
