Each month, federal immigration authorities publish a list of dates informing immigrant visa applicants when they should expect to be notified to assemble and submit required documentation to government officials. This Insight reviews November's release to help employers determine whether and when you should provide corresponding notifications to any of your foreign-national employees to assist their efforts. You'll also find a specific action plan so you can adapt your immigration strategy given this month's information. If you want to ensure you follow compliant processes to address your critical workforce needs in a timely manner, read on.

November Dates: An Overview

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) announced that it will continue to follow the State Department's Dates for Filing chart published in the November Visa Bulletin to determine whether candidates are eligible to submit an Adjustment of Status application on Form I-485 for that month. Dates which appear in this chart must be compared with an employee's Immigration Priority Date shown on their EB-1/2/3 I-140 approval notice with their current employer to determine eligibility.

Little to No Movement in all 3 Employment-Based Preference Classes For November

After last month's increases, November has little movement as the fiscal year progresses. USCIS will still rely on the Dates for Filing chart, with employment category priority dates as follows:

EB-1

- EB1 is now current for All Chargeability Areas, Mexico and Philippines
- EB1 China remained the same with a priority date of August 1, 2022
- EB1 Indian remained the same with a priority date of July 1, 2019

EB-2

- EB-2 All Chargeability Areas, Mexico and Philippines remained the same with a priority date of January 1, 2023
- EB-2 China remained the same with a priority date of January 1, 2020

- EB-2 India remained the same with a priority date of May 15, 2012

EB-3

- EB-3 All Chargeability and Mexico remained the same with a priority date of February 1, 2023
- EB-3 China remained the same with a priority date of September 1, 2020
- EB-3 India remained the same with a priority date of August 1, 2012
- EB-3 Philippines remained the same with a priority date of January 1, 2023

Dates for Filing Chart

The recently announced Dates for Filing for EB-1, EB-2 and EB-3 appear in the table below. Please note this table can always change, so check here for the most accurate and updated information before acting on these dates.

Preference	All Chargeability Areas Except Those Listed	CHINA-mainland born	INDIA	MEXICO	PHILIPPINES
EB-1	Current	8/1/22	7/1/19	Current	Current
EB-2	1/1/23	1/1/20	5/15/12	1/1/23	1/1/23
EB-3	2/1/23	9/1/20	8/1/12	2/1/23	1/1/23

What Should You Do? Your Action Plan

For November, USCIS is using the Dates for Filing chart. This means an Adjustment of Status can be filed for anyone with a priority date that is current. However, USCIS will not begin processing the case until the Final Action date is current. While overall processing will be delayed, the application is in the queue and USCIS will process requests for EAD cards and Advance Parole.

If you have any employees who have priority dates that will be current in November, you should reach out to your immigration attorney to prepare and submit their Adjustment of Status Application in November.
