Overview

Serineh Terzyan is an associate in the firm's Woodland Hills office where she defends and counsels businesses in state and federal labor and employment matters involving harassment, discrimination, retaliation, wrongful termination, workplace/HR investigations, labor code violations, wage and hour violations, FMLA, FLSA, accommodations, benefits, and unemployment. Representing clients in the financial services, healthcare, retail, restaurant and hospitality industries, her experience includes advising on EEOC, Title IX, Title VII, and DFEH investigations.

Prior to joining Fisher Phillips, Serineh served as an associate attorney at a general law firm in Calabasas, California with a focus on employment-related matters which were often high value and high-profile cases. In 2020, Serineh helped achieve one of the top 20 labor and employment settlements in California. She has served as a law lecturer at the School of Business and Economics at California State University, Northridge.

Serineh received her Juris Doctor degree from Southwestern Law School where she graduated in the top of her class, received a public service distinction, as well as a CALI Excellence for the Future Award for her legal research and writing.
