Audrey Surridge was recently awarded the “Service by a New Lawyer Award” by the San Diego County Bar Association (SDCA) in its 2024 Service Awards. The annual awards celebrate the contributions and commitment of remarkable individuals and organizations serving both the San Diego legal community and the public. The “Service by a New Lawyer Award” recognizes outstanding service by a new lawyer, who during the first seven years in practice, has demonstrated a significant commitment to serving the legal profession, the justice system, or the SDCA through legal education, mentoring or community service.

Audrey is the current president of Lawyers Club of San Diego, the largest affinity bar organization in San Diego. The Lawyers Club is dedicated to advancing the status of women in the law and society. Over the past eight years, Audrey has helped move the needle towards true equality for women by serving in various leadership positions within the organization. As president, her focus on equity levels out the playing field so everyone has what they need to achieve success.

Audrey will be honored at the SDCA's Annual Awards Ceremony & Celebration of Community Service on May 14. For more information, please read the SDCA's press release here.
