News

May 22, 2024

In an interview with Law360, Greg Zerzan shares his thoughts on why he decided to join Fisher Phillips, and he touches on some of the work that he'll be doing in his capacity as Senior Advisor of Government Relations and Communications in the firm's Government Relations Practice Group. "The firm already represents a large number of employers who benefit from the team's capacity to shape policy at a federal level, and I will play an integral role in partnering with these companies to manage political risk in areas like workplace safety, wage and hour, labor relations, immigration, arbitration, and noncompetes," said Greg.

Texas Lawyer also noted Greg's arrival in Dallas as a nod to Fisher Phillips' momentum in the Texas market.
