

Doing Business in Mexico: Understanding Labor Unions

Event

7.17.24

2:00 PM — 3:00 PM EDT

Join us as we explore the historical and current roles of labor unions in Mexico. We will delve into the complex landscape of unions, discussing the various types, industries most affected, and the impact of geography. This session aims to provide employers with a comprehensive understanding of the challenges and opportunities surrounding labor unions in the Mexican context.

Octavio Novaro will provide a brief overview of the legal framework governing labor unions in Mexico, including recent updates and reforms, and a discussion on the obstacles faced by employers operating in Mexico, such as regulatory compliance, internal governance issues, and external pressures. He'll analyze the relationship between employers and labor unions, highlighting case study examples of successful collaborations and contentious disputes, concluding with a focus on how international trade agreements and globalization trends influence labor unions and employment practices in Mexico.
