Join our next biweekly 30-minute session to hear thought leaders discuss the latest AI trends and breaking news.

Up for discussion this week: It's been a whirlwind few years when it comes to government and court activity related to the use of AI in the workplace – but we've boiled it down to one place. This interactive webinar will give a snapshot summary all of the laws, regulations, guidance documents, and court action that impact employers and their use of AI.
