

Immigration Co-Chair Talks to WSJ about Preparations for Trump's Flurry of EOs

News

1.22.25

In an interview with The Wall Street Journal, Shanon Stevenson discusses how the firm is preparing itself and its client for workplace enforcement actions driven by President Trump's immediate Executive Orders. She explains how the firm has set up a Rapid Response Team with resources for employers in industries like construction, hospitality, and healthcare to “know what to do—and whom to call—should immigration officials show up unannounced.”

To read the article visit The Wall Street Journal.

The firm's preparation and Rapid Response Team were also mentioned in various international outlets including the Daily Mail, Maeil Business Newspaper, and China.org.cn.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Shanon R. Stevenson

Partner

404.240.5842

Email

Service Focus

Service Focus

Immigration

Employers' Rapid Response Team for DHS Raids

Trending

FP's Trump Administration Resource Center for Employers

Related Offices

Atlanta