

Media Outlets Cover FP's Permanent Injunction and Declaratory Relief Against the State of Oregon to Enforce Measure 119

News

5.21.25

Several media outlets covered a significant Fisher Phillips victory in which the team of lawyers obtained a permanent injunction and declaratory relief against the State of Oregon to enforce Ballot Measure 119. It was a case of first impression on the merits of National Labor Relations Act preemption and Constitutional First Amendment speech protections related to labor peace agreement requirements. And this decision is poised to have far-reaching impacts, as many states are considering imposing similar requirements not only on cannabis licensees, but also in other sectors.

The Fisher Phillips' team of attorneys included Todd Lyon, Stephen Scott, Alexander Wheatley, and Janelle Debes.

To read the coverage of this significant outcome visit Oregon Live, KOIN 6 News, Bloomberg Law (subscription required), Canna Law Blog, Emerge Law Group, Law360 (subscription required), and MJShareholders.com.

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Todd A. Lyon

Partner
503.205.8095
Email

Stephen Scott
Partner
503.205.8094
Email

Alexander A. Wheatley
Partner
503.205.8054
Email

Janelle Debes

Associate

503.205.8070

Email

Service Focus

Labor Relations

Industry Focus

Cannabis

Related Offices

Portland, OR