

Workplace Safety Co-Chair Discusses New Kentucky Law Eliminating State-Specific Rules

News
6.26.25

In an interview with Lexology Pro, Todd Logsdon shares his insights on a new law aligning Kentucky's occupational safety and health plan with the US Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) while prohibiting the State from adopting or enforcing any regulation that OSHA has not promulgated, or that is more stringent than the corresponding federal provision.

To read the article visit Lexology (subscription required).

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Todd B. Logsdon
Partner
502.561.3971
Email

Service Focus

Workplace Safety and Catastrophe Management

Related Offices

Louisville