Generative AI has a tendency to just make things up sometimes – and the risks to your organization are very real. From fake citations and fabricated resumes to imaginary performance metrics, generative AI tools can produce content that looks convincing but is totally false. These "hallucinations" can create chaos in the workplace – and liability for employers who don't see them coming. In this 30-minute interactive FP AI Forum, join our firm's AI leaders for a candid, practical conversation about how to spot, stop, and survive AI-generated nonsense before it becomes your next problem.

 What You'll Learn:

- What AI hallucinations actually are – and why they happen
- Real-world workplace examples in hiring, performance, legal, and compliance
- How to vet, verify, and document AI outputs in business processes
- Employer policies and training tips to reduce risk fast

 Featuring:

- Pritesh Patel, FP's Director of AI
