Foreign nationals play a significant role in the U.S. energy sector, with companies becoming ever more reliant on foreign talent to meet workforce demands and drive innovation. Join us for a deep dive into navigating the complex immigration challenges facing companies in the energy industry, particularly in light of the currently evolving immigration landscape.

Topics to include:

- Current Immigration Landscape: Federal government immigration policies affecting the industry, including Department of Homeland Security (DHS) workplace-enforcement actions.
- Visa Work Authorization Options: Detailed exploration of visa categories most relevant to the energy industry.
- Strategies for Employers: Best practices for sponsoring and retaining foreign national talent, immigration regulation compliance, and mitigating risks.

On this webinar, we will discuss the evolving immigration landscape and its implications for energy sector employers. This program will provide insight for employers in the industry, including in-house legal teams, HR professionals, and talent acquisition specialists, as well as foreign nationals looking for career opportunities, or relocation to, the U.S. for work in the energy industry.
