In articles published by Bloomberg Law and Law360, Dave Dorey shares why he joined Fisher Phillips. Dorey told Law360 that he wanted to move his practice because of Fisher Phillips' platform, which he lauded for its global reach and bench of attorneys with deep experience in the labor and employment field.

On how his move benefits his clients, Dave added: "I think that as a firm we can provide really top flight advice and counseling of litigation and government relations to companies across the country and around the world who want to be really successful in their business to expand, and to do so in a way that is fully compliant with the tough regulatory environment that exists in the labor and employment space."
