Although Heraclitus is credited with originating the idea that 'nothing is permanent except change,' there's no way he could have envisioned the changes facing today's employer in Ohio: navigating the use of artificial intelligence, keeping workplaces safe in the era of legalized recreational cannabis, staying ahead of ever-evolving Federal safety regulations, meeting new reporting, minimum wage, pay stub, and other requirements, and much, much more.

Fortunately, the labor and employment lawyers of Fisher Phillips have you covered. Join us on November 6, 2025, at the Fawcett Center in Columbus or online for a transformative half-day seminar designed to help you understand and develop strategies for responding to the legal and regulatory changes impacting your business.

Why Attend?

1. Stay Ahead of Legal Trends: Become informed on the latest legal and regulatory developments that impact your success. Our experienced speakers will break down the most recent changes to Ohio and Federal law and discuss how they will affect your organization.
2. Get Strategic HR Insights: We'll provide actionable strategies you can use to prepare for and adapt to real shifts impacting HR policies and procedures. Equip yourself with the tools to effectively manage risk and ensure compliance.
3. Hear Practical Guidance: Gain invaluable perspectives from accomplished employment lawyers who bring their combined experience to bear as they inform and educate you on what's happening in workplace regulation.

Whether you're a seasoned HR professional, in-house counsel, or business leader, this seminar is tailored to provide you with the strategic knowledge and foresight you need to navigate the complexities of workplace law.

Don't miss this opportunity to stay informed and empowered. Secure your spot today and lead your organization confidently into the future!

The firm is submitting this event for HRCI/SHRM credit.
