This program will provide timely updates designed to help financial services employers successfully navigate:

1. Recent developments around wiretapping litigation and accompanying lessons industry employers should learn.
2. Aggressive enforcement actions by the California Consumer Privacy Agency (CCPA), and what they portend for employers doing business in California.
3. The latest SEC Regulation S-P updates, including new mandates for written data protection policies and mandatory breach notifications to affected customers.

Stay compliant and ahead of regulatory risk. Attendees will come away with a solid understanding of the privacy landscape for financial services institutions, so they can adopt an assertive posture in this complex regulatory and legislative environment.
