Effective performance management is essential for maintaining a thriving school community, but independent K–12 schools often face unique challenges—from navigating contractual employment structures to addressing cultural expectations around communication, accountability, and professional growth.

This session provides school leaders with practical strategies for setting clear expectations, delivering constructive feedback, documenting performance issues, and handling difficult conversations with confidence. Participants will learn how to build a culture of continuous improvement, mitigate legal risks, and align employee performance with the school's mission, ensuring that resolutions lead to meaningful, measurable results.
