

FP AI FORUM: YOUR AI REGULATION ESSENTIAL UPDATE FOR 2026

Event

Jan 27, 2026

2:00 pm - 2:30 pm EST

We're right on the edge of tumultuous times when it comes to AI regulation. Trump's recent Executive Order calls for a single federal standard to override the growing state patchwork, and we may soon see lawsuits attacking states that try to regulate AI. At the same time, California, Colorado, New York, Illinois, and Virginia are all charging ahead with their own frameworks. Meanwhile: where's Congress in all of this?

Join us for this timely 30-minute FP AI Forum, where Rich Meneghello will be joined by Government Relations Co-Chair Ben Ebbink for a rapid-fire update on the current state of AI workplace regulation and where it's headed in 2026.

We'll discuss answers to these questions and more:

- Will we see federal preemption from the White House or Congress?
- What does Trump EO really mean for employers?
- Will Colorado's groundbreaking AI law take effect this year?
- What can employers do to prepare for California's 2027 AI regulations?
- Why do employers across the country need to know about California regs?
