The Trump administration's first year has brought sweeping changes to immigration policy and enforcement that every employer needs to understand. Our immigration attorneys will provide a comprehensive review of the key developments affecting workplace immigration, from increased visa scrutiny and heightened worksite enforcement to new compliance requirements. We will also discuss the H-1B cap lottery, reviewing changes to this year's process and timeline, including key deadlines. Learn what these changes mean for your organization and how to plan strategically for the year ahead.
