

Fisher Phillips Attorney's Workplace Safety Article Headlines Hawaii Bar Journal

Insights

11.19.19

By: Editor

Scott Prange, an attorney in our Seattle office, recently wrote the feature story in the November 2019 edition of the Hawaii Bar Journal entitled, "The Gig Economy and Occupational Safety and Health." It is a thorough, well-researched article that focuses on the occupational protections that currently exist for gig economy workers, and examines some new approaches when it comes to safeguarding their workplace safety. You can read the full article here.

Service Focus

Workplace Safety and Catastrophe Management