K-12 EDUCATION LAWYERS

We understand that operating a school today means balancing educational priorities while navigating complex legal, regulatory, and community expectations. For over 25 years, we've supported independent and private schools, with practical guidance grounded in genuine appreciation for the culture and people who make each school unique.

We represent schools throughout the U.S., including religious and secular schools at all levels—from day-to-day advice and training to administrative charges, litigation, and appeals.

Below you will find relevant resources. These insights are provided for your reference to support understanding and help guide your approach. If you have any questions, please contact your Fisher Phillips attorney.
