LABOR PARTNER DETAILS USMCA COMPLIANCE OBLIGATIONS FOR COMPANIES OPERATING IN MEXICO

News
Jul 6, 2026

In an article published by El Economista, Germán de la Garza de Vecchi outlined the labor compliance obligations that companies operating in Mexico must meet under the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement. Germán emphasized that compliance has ceased to be an internal administrative matter and has become an unavoidable condition for international competitiveness and business continuity, as non-compliance can result in blocked exports and suspended tariff benefits.
