AI IN THE WORKPLACE: MANAGING LEGAL RISK

Event

Oct 14, 2026

12:00 pm - 1:00 pm PDT

Artificial intelligence is changing how organizations hire, manage, and monitor employees. But with new technology comes new legal risks. Join Fisher Phillips for a clear understanding of the legal issues surrounding workplace AI and practical steps to minimize liability.

What You'll Learn:

- Key developments shaping how employers use AI for recruiting, performance management, monitoring, and other workplace decisions
- Where discrimination and bias risks can arise in AI-assisted recruiting, screening, and applicant-facing technologies
- How AI-enabled monitoring and analytics tools can create employee privacy and transparency concerns
- How to navigate the growing patchwork of state and local AI requirements affecting employers
- What to document when evaluating, implementing, and overseeing AI systems—and how to conduct effective vendor due diligence
- How to distinguish high-value AI use cases from unnecessary investment and evaluate ROI
