2026 STAFFING WORLD

As trusted advisers to temporary staffing and alternative staffing businesses since the early days of the industry, we understand the unique demands and shifting dynamics you encounter. You must keep pace with evolving staffing platform options and terminology and be prepared to adopt complex multi-party relationships to better serve clients – all while adapting to evolving laws and regulations, the rise of AI and flexible work, economic uncertainties and increasing competition.

We have helped industry clients tackle all these and more. That's why working with us is seamless from day one. We know your business climate, are attuned to your needs, and provide solutions that will work for you.

We are proud members and sponsors of the American Staffing Association (ASA). Moreover, we are thought leaders in the intersection of staffing and employment law, contributing our insights to influential periodicals and legal conferences aimed specifically at the staffing industry.
