ANDREW SOMMER DISCUSSES CAL/OSHA'S EXPANDED CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION AUTHORITY

News
Oct 28, 2026

In an article published by Bloomberg Law News, Andrew Sommer discussed the legal implications of California's AB 2321, which strengthens Cal/OSHA's Bureau of Investigations (BOI) by making interference with safety inspections a misdemeanor punishable by up to six months in jail and a $5,000 fine. "There's always the potential for BOI engagement," he said of the investigations arm. "Employers need to take these BOI investigations very seriously and think about the potential involvement by BOI and what could result from it from day one when they have the accident."
