Event

2015 Brings Many Important Changes To Workplace Laws

As is customary in California, employers will face even more challenges and regulations in 2015 as a result of an active legislature, including implementing paid sick leave, reimbursing employees for business cell phone use, and preparing for more wage and hour claims under the California Private Attorney General Act. As such, our 2015 Legislative Update will include a wealth of pertinent cases and legislation that will impact California employers in the new year.

Employee Benefits Update: Healthcare Reform—Are You Ready?

Enforcement of the Employer Mandate was pushed to 2015. While some questions still remain, most of the rules that will impact employers in 2015 and beyond have largely been addressed in the regulatory guidance. This program will cover the primary issues to focus on as you get ready for 2015.
