

Is Your Company Ready for Quickie Elections?

Event

2.24.15

After several years of stops and starts, the National Labor Relations Board has kicked it into high gear. And this is presenting challenges for union and non-union employers. Join us for an in-depth look at what recent NLRB decisions and the upcoming “quickie election” rule will mean for your organization, and how you can develop a proactive employee relations strategy to prepare for the changes.

This complimentary event is a great opportunity to network and talk with other HR professionals and our lawyers in an informal and collaborative setting to get the information you need to stay in the know.

There is no cost to attend this briefing.

Presenters:

Dave Schreiner is a partner in the Cleveland office of Fisher Phillips. Although he has counseled employers in virtually all areas of labor and employment law, his primary focus is in the traditional labor relations area.

Melanie Webber is a partner in the Cleveland office of Fisher Phillips. She counsels employers on a wide array of human resource, employment law and labor issues.
