

ACC Mid-Year Conference

AVOIDING COSTLY WAGE AND HOUR CLASS ACTION LITIGATION

Event

New York Marriott Marquis

1535 Broadway

New York, NY 10036

4.04.17

At this year's ACC Mid-Year Conference, Attorney Christopher Boman had the opportunity to speak on the topic of "Avoiding Costly Wage and Hour Class Action Litigation."

This two-day conference offered intensive education for senior in-house counsel on three tracks: Practical Strategies for Effective Contracts, Employment Law Challenges & Solutions and Financial Services Regulatory & Technology Pulse. The meeting is geared towards in-house lawyers from North America with five or more years of in-house experience, particularly those in the financial sector, and those whose practices focus on employment law, contracts and technology.

For more information on the event, please visit ACC.

Related People

Christopher J. Boman

Partner

949.851.2424

Email

