About Jim Scott's Gardens

On the banks of Central Alabama's Lake Martin rests Jim Scott's garden. It's like none you've ever experienced. His 15-year creation is a labyrinth of intersecting trails, meandering streams, hideaways, and surprises. And while he isn't a landscape architect, he could teach such a professional a thing or two. Each waterfall, wildflower, and moss-shawled boulder looks like it's been nestled here since God made Earth. – Southern Living magazine Learn more about the property in Southern Living <http://www.southernliving.com/home-garden/gardens/lakeside-garden-design-ideas>.
