One particular conundrum for employers of all sizes is compliance with the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

Please join us for the first part of a series of Dine and Discovers, sponsored by SouthGroup Insurance Services, designed to help you navigate your wage and hour obligations to keep you out of hot water with the Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division.

In this first Dine and Discover, you will learn the FLSA basics and your obligations under the law. In the next series, we will delve deeper into the FLSA law, such as what is compensable time, what types of travel time is compensable, etc.
