Employers may find something worse than coal in their stockings this holiday season – an ACA penalty assessment from the IRS. The agency sent out the first wave of penalties last week and some assessments are in the millions. Even employers who offered health insurance to their employees are receiving assessments. The webinar presenters Tabatha George, Attorney, Fisher Phillips and Mark Combs, CEO, ACAREportingService.com will cover how the IRS is determining penalties, what employers should do if they receive Letter 226J, and what companies can do to avoid costly penalties going forward.
