Pay equity is a hot topic in employment law. Several states have proposed, or enacted, legislation aimed at greatly expanding the Federal Equal Pay Act. Key among them is California, where the state's equal pay statute has been the law of the land for a little more than three years.

Please join Fisher Phillips attorneys Miranda Watkins and Adam Sloustcher for a webinar presentation that explores the California Equal Pay Act and its impact on employers doing business in the state of California. The webinar will detail the significant aspects of California's pay equity law, with its significant financial consequences, and bring clarity to the question of whether or not organizations are prepared to defend their pay practices.
