Workplace harassment continues to permeate the headlines, as companies struggle to mitigate the consequences of workplace investigations gone wrong. Join us for an interactive presentation on conducting effective workplace investigations.

Fisher Phillips employment attorneys will discuss not only how to conduct prompt and thorough workplace investigations, but also how to spot and prevent incidents of harassment, discrimination and workplace bullying before complaints arise.

Learn how to improve morale and stay compliant with California laws through proper investigation planning, appropriate witness interviews, and thorough documentation to avoid falling into some of the most common (and often public) legal traps.
