The Partners at Fisher Phillips elected Charles Caulkins to the firm's Management Committee. Mr. Caulkins begins his three year term on June 1, 2007. Mr. Caulkins will continue as the managing partner of the firm's Fort Lauderdale office, a position he has held for 22 years. Fisher Phillips is one of the largest labor and employment law firms in the United States.

Mr. Caulkins joins Thomas Rebel and Roger Quillen on the Management Committee, which serves as a board of directors for the 18-office labor and employment law firm. Mr. Quillen is chairman of the management committee. Each member is elected to a three year term in staggered elections.

Mr. Caulkins said, "It is an honor to have my colleagues select me to serve on the Management Committee. I am committed to working with the other committee members to continue to grow Fisher Phillips and to continue to provide excellent service to our clients who come to us for assistance with their labor and employment matters."

Mr. Quillen added, "Charley has been an integral part of the firm's management for many years, both in Florida and nationally. His experience will benefit the entire firm in many ways over the next three years."
