

What Job-Hunting Military Veterans Need to Know

News

8.05.11

Steve Miller of the Chicago office was quoted in the Fortune Online article "What Job-Hunting Military Veterans Need to Know." The article addressed the Uniformed Services Employment & Re-Employment Act (USERRA) that states employers must reinstate returning servicemen and women in their jobs, provided that anyone on active duty for more than 180 days notifies their employers within 90 days that they have returned and want to return to work. Steve said, "Most employers really want to put returning veterans back to work."
